COVID-19 special measures - important information

Changes to operations

The COVID-19 pandemic has required changes to the operation of the University for health and compliance reasons.

As a result, your course or parts of your course may be delivered differently. These changes will depend on the units in which you are enrolled and may include remote delivery of subjects and changes to campus operations, assessment methods and the mode for delivery of available support services. These changes are communicated through relevant Sydney Courses webpages and other University communication platforms.

You should ensure you understand how these changes may affect you by carefully reviewing the relevant Sydney Courses webpage(s) available at <https://www.sydney.edu.au/courses/search>, together with other relevant information communicated to you by the University. Please ensure you review the webpages regularly for any updates.

Changes to University operations due to COVID-19 are intended to be interim arrangements to safeguard the health of our community while allowing students to continue their studies. Students who commence their studies offshore in a course that has in-person requirements but due to COVID-19 will study remotely, are expected to come to Australia on a relevant visa as soon as they are able after Australia's borders open and normal delivery can resume.

By accepting this offer, you agree that you have read and understood this COVID-19 important information.

Supporting documents

The University accepts scanned documents submitted online in support of applications for admission to courses. All supporting documents must be true and complete records. You should be prepared to provide original documents or original certified copies of supporting documents upon request at any time.

Documents submitted in a language other than English must be accompanied by a complete English translation. The University accepts translations to English made by an accredited translator with a government body, the Registrar of the issuing institution or, for international applicants, registered University education Agents who are designated translators.

Please note that detailed checking of supporting documents is an inherent element of our admissions process and may involve contacting the original issuing authority, relevant tertiary admissions centre, organisation, or individual, as required, to verify documents. A failure to provide documents on request, or the discovery of either fraudulent documents or a misrepresentation of true circumstances in association with your application, may lead to the rejection of your application for admission, the withdrawal of your offer, or the cancellation of your enrolment.

Important information about fees

The tuition fee set out in this conditional offer is indicative only. The exact tuition fee that you pay will depend on the calendar year in which you undertake your study in the Course.

Tuition fees are subject to annual review by the University and will increase each calendar year of your study, effective at the start of each calendar year.

The exact tuition fees that you will pay for your specific enrolment in any given semester (or research period) will be set out in your 'Student Financial Statement'. This Statement will be generated, and available within 24 hours in your Sydney Student portal, once you have submitted your enrolment selections prior to the relevant University census date.

Please note that sanctions for unpaid student debts apply and are set out in the 'Student Debtor Sanctions Policy 2014' (as may be amended or replaced from time to time) which can be found at: sydney.edu.au/policies.

You will be required to pay a SSA Fee each semester for your study in a course. The SSA Fee is subject to annual review by the University, and will increase each year of your period of study (subject to a Government specified cap on indexation), effective at the start of each calendar year. For further information about the SSA Fee, due dates for payment, and payment deferral for eligible students, please consult the University's webpage at: sydney.edu.au/students/ssaf.

Please consult the University's web page for more information: sydney.edu.au/students/materials-equipment.

Method of Payment

There are a number of ways that you can pay the fees that apply to your study. Be aware, a surcharge will apply for payments made using a debit or credit card. Your previous studies may allow you to reduce the length of your studies in this Course, depending on their relevance. The University's policies are available at the Policy Register at: sydney.edu.au/policies. You should consult with the Student Centre for more specific information about your eligibility and apply for credit via your Student Portal.

Changes to your student status

The University's 'Coursework Policy 2014' (which can be found at: sydney.edu.au/policies) provides information about residency changes and how any changes will affect your offer of admission and fee liability. The Policy may be amended or replaced from time to time, and you must consult this Policy for up-to-date information about changes to student status.

University Rules and Policies

As part of agreeing to the terms and conditions of this conditional offer, you agree to comply with the University's rules and policies that exist from time to time. You also acknowledge that you must complete the requirements for your course within the maximum time limit specified in section 4.2 of the University of Sydney \(Coursework\) Rule 2014 and, if you will be studying in Australia on a student visa, within the time limit outlined in your visa conditions. The University's rules and policies are listed on the University's Policy Register at: sydney.edu.au/policies. The University may amend these rules and policies from time to time, and you must consult the University's Policy Register for the most up-to-date information.
